Email Forwarding

Forward project emails to Bids@BuildVision.io so BuildVision has full context on every bid from day one.

When bid invites or contractor emails come in, BuildVision can pull the project details directly — tagging files, extracting schedules, and building the project intelligence you need to quote, without adding work to your day.

Before you start: Gmail and Outlook send a one-time verification message to Bids@BuildVision.io the first time you add the address — email your CX lead to confirm BuildVision received it. Some Microsoft 365 / Google Workspace accounts disable external forwarding by default (this causes the 5.7.520 bounce); ask your IT/admin to enable external forwarding first.

Step 1 — Open forwarding settings

Open Gmail on a desktop browser (the mobile app doesn't support forwarding setup). Click the gear icon, then See all settings.

Step 2: Click the gear icon, then click "See all settings."

Add & verify the forwarding address

Open the Forwarding and POP/IMAP tab. Click Add a forwarding address, enter Bids@BuildVision.io, then Next !' Proceed !' OK. Gmail sends a verification email; your CX lead confirms it, and the address shows as verified.

Add a forwarding address

Tip: in the dialog that opens, enter Bids@BuildVision.io.

Step 3-4: Open the Forwarding tab, then click Add a forwarding address.

Step 2 — Create a filter

Click the gear icon !' See all settings !' Filters and Blocked Addresses !' Create a new filter. A filter forwards only the messages that match your criteria.

Filter for project emails

Enter criteria that identify project emails: From a contractor domain (e.g. @contractordomain.com), or Subject with terms like Bid, RFQ, Proposal, Quote. Check Has attachment so BuildVision receives drawings, schedules, and specs.
